

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Digital Design is a professionally-oriented program that focuses on interactive, screen-based design, students produce work for mobile devices, web, film, and television. Digital Design is conceptually-based around solving problems for people. Design research, theory, aesthetics, collaboration, and branding are heavily emphasized. Digital Design graduates are trained to be art and creative directors, UX or UI designer and many go on to start their own design firms. Digital Design is the only program in the Rocky Mountain region to teach branding, aesthetics, collaboration, and theory – beyond just production and technique. In addition, Digital Design graduates have a high level of software sophistication and learn to design using industry standard software. Digital Design students are more marketable upon graduation because of their skill set and its broad applications.

Emphasis courses take a minimum of eight semesters to complete, assuming students start in fall semester and are accepted into the program the first time they apply. To be eligible to apply for admission, students must complete (or be currently enrolled in) a minimum of 3 courses: FINE 2105 Human-Centered Design, FINE 2405 Intro to Digital Design, and FINE 2415 Typography.

Students are responsible for meeting with a CAM advisor to confirm degree progress. Students completing the Fine Arts BFA Degree with an emphasis in Digital Design are required to complete the following minimum program requirements:

1. Complete 34 semester hours of CU Denver Core Curriculum coursework.
2. Complete a minimum of 77 semester hours of major-area coursework with a grade of C (2.0) or better in each course.
3. Complete a 3-credit College of Arts & Media graduation requirement.
