

University of Colorado Denver Annual Award for Excellence in Research/Creative Work Eligibility, Criteria, and Procedures/Documentation

Spring 2022

I. Eligibility

There are two campus-level awards for research/creative work: one for tenured and tenure-track faculty (professors, associate professors, and assistant professors), and one for instructional, research, and clinical faculty (clinical teaching track faculty, senior instructors, instructors, and lecturers).

Faculty members who have been members of the CU Denver Campus faculty for at least the past three years (AY2018-19, AY2019-20, AY2020-21) are eligible.

Faculty members who won the campus-level award during the past two years are not eligible this year.

The library and each school and college, except CLAS, may submit one nominee in each of the two categories. CLAS may submit three nominees in each category for the campus-level award.

II. Criteria for Research (past three years only)

Quantitative Criteria

- Number of publications, including refereed journal articles, refereed presentations at professional conferences, non-refereed articles, books, book chapters, published proceedings, etc.
- If appropriate for the discipline, amount of external funds obtained for research, and sources of the funds.
- If applicable, extent of collaborative involvement in the nominee's research by students.

Qualitative Criteria

- Evidence of impact on the field, discipline, interdisciplinary scholarship, or society by the nominee [for example, number of citations and norms for the field or discipline; memberships on editorial boards or review panels; keynote addresses; book awards; other awards; supportive data from established alternative metrics (e.g., number of page views/downloads of public works); impact on practice; significant professional collaborations; success of student collaborators; unfunded projects that had impacts on the field; and indicators of the quality of journals, such as their rankings]

- Evidence of originality of work (e.g., as recognized by colleagues in the field)
- Evidence of impact on the mission of the academic unit and the university (e.g., in attracting new faculty members, graduate students, visiting professors; in enhanced educational opportunities for students; etc.)
- Level of excellence, productivity and impact given the developmental stage of the nominee.

Criteria for Creative Work (past three years only)

Quantitative Criteria

- Number of national and/or international juried and non-juried shows, film festivals, gallery exhibits, museum exhibits, art center exhibits, art exhibitions, musical performances, theatre productions, or media productions—with evidence of the exhibition types, venue quality, and participant caliber.
- Number of books (novels, poetry collections, etc.), essays, and articles.
- If appropriate for the discipline, amount of external funds, and sources of the funds.
- If applicable, extent of collaborative involvement in the nominee's creative work by students.

Qualitative Criteria

- Evidence of impact on the field, discipline, interdisciplinary works, or society by the nominee [for example, participation on juries or review panels; impact on practice; significant professional collaborations; success of student collaborators; awards; quality of publishing venues; supportive data from established alternative metrics (e.g., number of downloads of open-access publications and other products); number of citations and norms of the field or discipline; unfunded projects that had impacts on the field]
- Evidence of originality of work, as recognized by colleagues in the field.
- Evidence of impact on the mission of the academic unit and the university (e.g., in attracting new faculty members, graduate students, visiting professors; in enhanced educational opportunities for students; etc.)
- Level of excellence, productivity and impact given the developmental stage of the nominee.
