The following camp will be held between the hours of 9:00 AM – 4:00 PM with an hour lunch and around 2 hours of free work time. The participants will engage with our camp instructors and other participants via ZOOM and Canvas accounts.

Mural Creation Course Description

Taught by Abby Gregg

Abby is a painting and drawing instructor in CAM who specializes in large-scale experimental painting and collaborative projects.

Course Description

Students will remotely engage in a collaborative mural project, which will be installed on the Auraria campus or in downtown Denver. Each student will have a part in conceptualizing and painting aspects of the mural, while working together and sharing ideas. Through working towards a collaborative goal, campers will learn advanced painting techniques, experiment with digital and traditional methods, and learn about contemporary and historical painters within the field of painting. While campers will be creating remotely, this camp will bring artists together through a meaningful and ambitious public art collaboration.

Material Requirements:
- Computer or smartphone
- Paintbrushes
- Surfaces to paint on (watercolor paper, canvas, wood panel, or scrap wood)
- Variety of colors in acrylic paint

Abby will send out a link to a variety of DickBlick supply lists, that range in price from 25$-80$, including the top tier of recommended materials and more affordable options.

The mural created by the 2019 camp students is on display at the CU Denver Student Wellness Center. The mural was a modern recreation of the famous Seurat painting. The wonderful final mural can be viewed here and here and at the Student Wellness Center. Painting students, you don’t want to miss this opportunity!
